

Language is an important thing in our life as a means of communication. By language, people can give opinions, information, imaginations, express their idea etc. But sometimes people have difficulty to understand to implicate the purpose of language without the contexts.